PADUCAH SUNDAY SCHOOLS WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED

At International Convention to be Held in Louisville Next Week.

Schools of the City Select Delegates.

ARRANGE FOR ANNUAL PICNICS

Paducah will be well represented at the international Sunday school convention in Louisville this week. Not all the churches will send delegates but fifteen or twenty persons will attend from this city. It will be the greatest Sunday school event of the year with speakers of world-wide reputation. From the German Evangelical church, Mrs. Frank Rinkoff, Mrs. A. Doup, Mrs. W. J. Sherrill, Mrs. H. Harmeling and Mrs. Will Hummel will go; from the First Baptist church, Mrs. Frank Wahl, Mrs. T. M. Nance and Mrs. R. Coleman; from Broadway Methodist church, Dr. G. T. Sullivan, Mrs. Mildred Davis and Miss Lettie Smith are delegates. They will leave Tuesday.

Sunday Schools Picnic.
Picnics are the chief interest for most of the Sunday schools in the city now. Nearly every one has one arranged, or is planning for an outing. The First Baptist Sunday school will leave at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway for Almo park in a special train. Dinners will be carried and the beautiful woodland park will be the scene of gay and happy times.

On Thursday the First Presbyterian church Sunday school will go to Almo park for an all-day picnic. They, too, will have a special train to carry them there. Tuesday evening the Young Ladies' society and the Church building society will have a picnic supper at Wallace park.

Gregory Heights will be the scene of the annual picnic of the German Evangelical church Sunday school, on July 8. A committee in the Sunday school of the German Lutheran church is discussing the question of a picnic but no time and place have been set. The Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church also will have a Sunday school picnic but no definite plans have been made. Other Sunday schools will picnic later in the summer.

Missionary Coming.
The Rev. W. H. Tipton, of Waco, China, a missionary supported by the First Baptist church of Paducah, will be in the city this week and will preach next Sunday morning and evening at the church. The Rev. Mr. Tipton has returned to this country after nearly five years' work in China, to leave his children to be educated. His wife died recently in China. He will go back to China on August 1 to remain indefinitely. A large congregation is expected to hear Mr. Tipton next Sunday, as he is a most interesting talker about the foreign field.

Children's Day Exercises.
Children's day was observed at the Cumberland Presbyterian church Sunday evening in Roger's hall, Twelfth street and Broadway. The program was heard by a congregation that overflowed the hall and was one of the most interesting yet seen in the city. The Rev. J. T. Bartlett preached in the morning. No preaching is announced for next Sunday, though Sunday school will be held as usual.

The Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday school held its annual children's day service Sunday morning before a large congregation. The program consisted of songs, recitations and readings. Dr. J. R. Henry preached in the evening.

Church Notes.
The supper to have been given by the Temple Israel Sisterhood on Tuesday evening, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the change in the weather.

One of the largest evening congregations in several months was out last evening to hear Dr. G. T. Sullivan, of the Broadway Methodist church, preach the second sermon in his series for young people. Dr. Sullivan told of the perils in the pathway of young people with advice as to how they may be avoided. There were many young men and women in the audience, who seemed much interested in his remarks. In the morning service Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis and Mrs. W. C. Gray sang a duet as the offertory, and Mrs. Lewis sang a solo in the evening. At the Epworth League hour, Mr. John U. Robinson sang a solo.

Children's day was held at the Mechanicsburg Methodist church, the Rev. J. W. Cantrell, pastor, Sunday evening. A large audience attended and enjoyed the long program by the little people.

Burnett Phelps, First Birmingham Raider to Go on Trial at Benton in Circuit Court--Jury Selected

Great Interest in Outcome of Trials of Accused in Marshall--No Demonstration.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Benton, Ky., June 15.—Judge Reed adjourned the trial of Burnett Phelps until tomorrow morning on information that the defendant's child was seriously ill.

Benton, Ky., June 15.—Both sides announced ready in the prosecution of those accused of participating in the raid on the home of John Serages at Birmingham, by white caps and Burnett Phelps, a well known Marshall county farmer, was the first defendant arraigned for trial. Owing to the nature of the cases and the amount of discussion and newspaper talk that has been indulged in there was some trouble in securing qualified jurors. Commonwealth's Attorney Lovett, who conducted the examination for the prosecution, called on those who by reason of affiliation with any order, lodge or association that would prevent them doing their full duty to retire, but none of the veniremen responded.

All the important witnesses answered when called except Wm. Bishop, a negro, who did not respond promptly and was sent to jail for an hour by Judge Reed when he appeared an hour after court convened.

The Jury.
The jury empaneled for the trial of Phelps is: Walter Collins, a farmer and member of the Society of Equity; Ira Ross, a merchant; J. F. Eley, a trader; D. G. Wood, W. B. Thompson, L. W. Morgan, tobacco growers and members of the association; William Phillips, John H. Grace, T. H. Hall, Morgan Parrish, Thomas B. Harper and A. A. Cross, independent farmers.

Lovett Makes Statement.
Before court was adjourned the attorneys made their statement to the jury and Commonwealth's Attorney

Girl Murderer on Trial.
Neosho, Mo., June 15.—The preliminary trial of Bessie Davidson, 19 year old heiress, charged with killing Roy Ramsour, the discarded sweetheart of her sister, Grace, has begun. A sensation was caused by the disappearance of Grace, who, it is reported, left the city on advice of lawyers.

Fire Damages Residence.
Fire originating from a defective fuse today at noon did about $250 worth of damage at the residence of Henry Seamon, 1027 South Third street, driver of the patrol wagon. The fire had a good start in the attic and the roof was burned off in the rear. Companies Nos. 2 and 4 answered the alarm, and by good work prevented the blaze from getting a substantial hold.

Sun's Corona Visible Yesterday

Excitement prevailed all over the city Sunday from 11 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the sun was seen to be surrounded by a perfect circle, of the color of the rainbow. Speculation about this phenomenon was freely indulged and the opinions of its cause and probable effect ranged all the way from more rain to the end of the world. Among the superstitions it foreboded some dire calamity to the earth, and they connected in their minds the unusual precipitation of the last few weeks with the heavenly sign.

Scientifically, yesterday's phenomenon has an explanation and to quiet the fears of the credulous, it may be stated that no serious results will follow. Captain William Borneman, weather observer for Paducah, was besieged by anxious inquirers yesterday and today, and his explanation is that the circle seen yesterday is

Mr. Kopf did not stop working and did not notify his family of the accident until he came home yesterday morning. He is going right along with his work today although very stiff and sore from the accident.

DAVID E. HOLT

Mr. Holt was a farmer and a very popular man in Paducah. He is survived by four sisters and two brothers, Mrs. R. W. Rudolph, of Arcadia; Mrs. Belle Hutchinson, of Lovelaceville, Ky.; Mrs. Betty Coons, of Arlington, Ky.; Mrs. Mary McKinney, of Ballenger, Tex.; Mr. George Holt, of Kevil, Ky., and Mr. Gus B. Holt, of Maagsa, Ky. Mr. Holt was unmarried. The body was taken to Lovelaceville at 12 o'clock today and the funeral took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The burial was at Cross cemetery, near Lovelaceville.

JILTED BY HER LOVER NEGRESS SUICIDES

Despondent because her lover married another woman, Emma Hines, a negress, swallowed five cents worth of carbolic acid yesterday and died in horrible agony a short time after. Dr. J. D. Robertson was called and hurried to the house on South Tenth street, where the woman lived, but was too late to do anything for her. Coroner Frank Eaker empaneled a jury this morning and a verdict of death by suicide was returned.

$2,000 REVENUE TO COUNTY FROM DOG TAX LIST

Charged on Regular Tax Receipts and to be Collected with Other Taxes.

Property Owners Not Assessed for Poll Tax.

1100 NEGROES ON THE LIST

Sheriff J. W. Ogilvie and his deputies have two unusual items on the tax receipts this year, that have never appeared there before. The first is the state tax of dogs at $1, and the second is the poll tax for colored citizens, 1,100 of whom were assessed this year. There has not been a rush yet to pay either one.

The dog tax applies only to the county, and if all are paid, will enrich the state $1,500 or $2,000. It is likely that they will be paid because they are made out on the regular tax receipts and the taxpayer cannot pay his regular taxes without paying the state dog tax. The revenue from the dog tax goes to a fund to remunerate sheep owners who have sheep killed by dogs. Any man who kills a sheep-killing dog, will be paid five dollars out of this fund, and any citizen who knowingly keeps a sheep-killing dog is liable for a fine. The dog law further provides that unless some person accompanies any dog, it may be killed if it trespasses on private property.

As sheep raising is not a considerable item in McCracken county farming, or in the western end of the state, some complaint may be expected from the new tax. Nearly every county has as many dogs as McCracken county, and if the assessors are as diligent elsewhere as they were in McCracken, a large fund will be created. No city dogs were assessed.

While practically no white men in Paducah were assessed a poll tax this year, 1,100 colored citizens were so taxed. Heretofore no attention was paid to assessing the colored citizens. The discrimination is counted for in the fact that no citizen who pays taxes on property is assessed a poll tax now. It is supposed that these 1,100 colored citizens were assessed because they paid no taxes of any kind. Poll taxes are assessed regardless of whether the citizen votes. In collecting these taxes the sheriff has no discretion, as he must collect whatever the assessors turn into his office.

A Correction

In justice to itself and to Mr. Korne, The Sun wishes to correct the false statements in the two morning papers yesterday in their stories on the arrest of P. H. McDonald, who is held here under the alleged charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Both the Register and the News-Democrat said McDonald was manager of The Sun's contest. This is not true. Mr. D. E. Brundage is the manager of the contest, and has been here in that capacity for a month. Mr. McDonald came to Paducah Saturday, the 6th, from Albany, Ga., where he was connected with a contest, and asked to be given work by The Sun. He was given an assignment, but communications were immediately despatched to Albany inquiring if his connections there had been thoroughly satisfactory. Before a reply was received, however, the management of The Sun took exception to some of his work here and immediately dispensed with his services.

About the same time Mr. G. R. Korne, proprietor of the firm conducting The Sun's contest, had been advised of Mr. McDonald's work at Albany and he immediately came to Paducah to further investigate, with the result that he immediately had McDonald arrested, and will have him taken back to Albany for prosecution to the full extent of the law.

One of the papers mentioned attempted to throw a shadow on G. Ross Korne & Company by assigning them various locations. As a matter of fact the address of the company is and always has been Newark, O.

Effort to Defeat Taft Abandoned --Allies Keep Up Fight to Land the Vice-Presidential Nomination

Usual Spirit of Contest Lacking at Chicago--Kentucky Makes Splendid Showing.

Chicago, June 15.—Opponents of the anti-injunction plank announced this afternoon they have persuaded leaders to omit such a declaration from the platform. The executive council of the American Federation of Labor completed the planks it wants incorporated, including the anti-injunction plank, and will present same to the resolutions committee tomorrow. They will carry the fight to the convention floor through friendly delegates if turned down in committee. The Indiana delegation, after caucus, indicated that Fairbanks was willing to accept the vice-presidency. Many take this as a solution to a troublesome question. Roosevelt boomers are reported to have selected Senator Borah, of Idaho, to nominate the president.

New York delegates caucused and decided to vote for Hughes on first ballot. They are working hard for Sherman for vice-president. Massachusetts' caucus and voted to support Governor Gilbert for vice-president.

Roosevelt's Choice.
Washington, June 15.—It is reported on highest authority that Roosevelt wants either Dolliver or Governor Cummins, of Iowa, for vice-president. It is said this word was sent from Chicago to Iowa.

FIST FIGHT IN THE DENVER CONVENTION

MISSOURI CITIES SUFFER HEAVILY FROM BIG FLOODS

St. Louis, June 15.—The Mississippi has risen a foot since Saturday. North St. Louis is partially flooded, and many railroad tracks submerged. The yards have been practically abandoned. East St. Louis, Granite City, Venice and Madison suffered severely. All along the Missouri the flood has caused the greatest damage. The stream is miles wide at many points. The loss is estimated at hundreds of thousands. Two foot further rise is predicted before Thursday.

and he may be eliminated. Many protests against Dolliver are coming from German-Americans and "Personal rights" leaguers who remember Dolliver's stand in the senate for prohibition legislation. New York delegates are backing Sherman and may land the nomination. The question is still unsettled. Texas announced the following committee appointments: Credentials, W. J. A. Smith; resolutions, Charles W. Ogden; national committeeman, Cecil A. Lyon.

Fight Anti-Injunction Plank.

Chicago, June 15.—A strong fight is to be made against the anti-injunction plank in the platform. Speaker Cannon has returned and is leading opponents of the plank. He says he will appear personally before the resolutions committee if there is any danger of the plank being accepted. Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy, arrived this morning and is opposing the plank. He also wants declarations menacing to railroads

J. F. CLARK INJURED

J. F. Clark, an employee of the Sam Gott restaurant, was struck by car No. 95 near Fifth street and Broadway Sunday morning at 12:45 o'clock, and received a serious scalp injury. He had started across Broadway with a tray containing two dinners, when he ran into the side of the moving car, smashing the tray and knocking him to the street. Spectators said Clark struck the car the third seat from front and probably was looking backward when he started across. He rooms over the saloon on North Fourth street and will not be long confined by his accident.

POWERS GIVEN OVATION ALONG ROUTE HOME

Addresses His Old Friends in Court House at Barboursville on Arrival.

Lauds Them for Work Done in His Behalf.

BARBOURSVILLE, Ky., June 15.—The news that Caleb Powers had been pardoned by Gov. Willson spread rapidly through the country and large crowds collected at the stations of Pennington Gap, Middlesboro, Pineville and other points through which the train passed yesterday. Mr. Powers reached out the window of the Pullman and shook hands with thousands of friends.

At Arden, where Powers used to live, the train was met by a committee of one hundred and fifty citizens. The crowd here was the largest that ever welcomed any person to Barboursville.

Friends hurried him in a carriage, where his mother and sister were waiting to receive him, and the procession started for the court house, headed by the brass band, that played a stirring march.

Mr. Powers was noticeably affected. Aged women, who knew him as a boy, old men, who knew him as Caleb, joined in the cheering all the way to the courthouse.

A committee escorted Mr. Powers into the court house, and within a few minutes the large room was packed. Here Mr. Powers delivered an address, principally lauding his old friends for their loyalty and explaining the causes that led to his arrest, conviction and pardon.

He said in part: "This demonstration can mean but one thing; that those among whom I have been born and reared, those that have had an opportunity to know me better, and those who know me better than any other people on the face of the earth, want to say and do say to all the world that you disbelieve and repudiate the foul charges brought against my fair name."

PLAYS PART OF POTIPHAR'S WIFE

Criminal Assault Was Spiritual, Not Physical.

Fort Smith Woman and Man Enter Covenant to Redeem World—Pleads Guilty.

ELIJAH SKAGGS, NEW PROPHET.

Fort Smith, Ark., June 15.—Elijah Skaggs, who claims to be the prophet Elijah, came to do away with the second death, was put on trial today for criminal assault on Mrs. Margaret Taylor, one of his followers. At a preliminary hearing he pleaded guilty. Mrs. Taylor gave details of the assault and produced a torn garment, which she said was the work of Skaggs.

To the utter amazement of the community, Mrs. Taylor today testified that the criminal assault charged was spiritual, and not physical; that she herself tore the garment, and that her complaint was in response to a covenant entered into between her and Skaggs, under which he was to plead guilty and be hanged, that he might again rise the third day and redeem the world. Skaggs swore to the same effect and maintained that he had only criminally assaulted Mrs. Taylor in his heart, and was therefore guilty and should be hanged.

Reasons for Recanting.
He explained his plea of not guilty by saying that if they would hang him he was ready, but as they were not going to hang him he did not want to be sent to the penitentiary. The court scene was intensely dramatic and the tension was heightened when Mrs. Taylor was ordered into the custody of the sheriff on the charge of perjury.

The indications are that the jury will acquit, the court charging that it must ignore the testimony taken at the preliminary hearing and consider only that given before the jury. Mrs. Taylor is spending the night in the county jail, and appears proud of what she calls her martyrdom resulting from the carnal sight of the prosecuting attorney.

INJURY MADE HIM THIEF.

President Roosevelt Pardons De-moted Son of Rich Railroad.

Washington, June 15.—President Roosevelt today pardoned Dr. James D. Eggleston, son of James Eggleston, president of the Pacific Express company, and widely known railroad man of New York, who was convicted at Denver for counterfeiting and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. Eggleston is confined at St. Elizabeth's hospital for the insane in this city. He will be delivered to his father and placed by the latter in a private sanitarium for treatment and observation.

When 12 years old, Eggleston, then a bright and promising lad, lost a leg and had his skull fractured in an accident. His disposition was changed and he became morose and viciously inclined. All that wealth could do to overcome the tendency was done by his father.

He was privately educated and traveled extensively in this country and abroad. He attended the Harvard Medical school and was given a finishing course abroad. He learned rapidly enough and a bright future seemed in store for him.

Upon his return to this country he settled in Denver and started to practice medicine. He was soon arrested by secret service officers and in his room were found a photograph of a ten-dollar bill and a plaster paris mold of a silver dollar.

"Do you know that your chickens come over into my garden?" "I thought they must be doing that." "Why did you think so?" "Because they never come back!"—Cleveland Leader.

Lots of men are so contrary that they would refuse to take whiskey if the doctor prescribed it.

Henry Clews' Banking Letter

New York, June 15, 1908.—Recent developments have been of a generally favorable character. The week preceding a national convention, which expects to perform such important duties as nominating the next president and issuing a party platform, is not usually a period of much activity in the stock market. It is now fully expected that Mr. Taft will be chosen as the Republican candidate, that he stands a good chance of election, and that the new platform, while it will endorse the Roosevelt policies, will not be depressingly radical. It may be that the market has already fully discounted these expectations; for prices are quite high enough considering general conditions, and any further profit-taking, there has already been considerable unloading of stocks by market leaders; but it may probably suit their purposes to carry prices still higher, and the results of the convention, if to their liking, could easily be used as a means of stimulating activity. On the other hand, the market is technically in a very sensitive condition, and unfavorable news either from the political world or regarding the growing crops might easily precipitate a sharp reaction in view of the big rise which has already taken place. The fact, also, that two of the most important deals in the market have been successfully consummated—the Pennsylvania and the Union Pacific loans—removes an important element of support which has been accorded by prominent banking interests.

The money market continues exceptionally easy, both at home and abroad; the diminishing activity in trade and speculation the world over being, of course, responsible for this condition. Gold exports have been checked and have fallen much below the aggregate at one time expected. The European banks are generally in good condition, and are being further strengthened by the large arrivals of gold from South Africa, the production in that quarter being on an unprecedented scale. The local money market is sufficiently plentiful to be comparatively independent of future demands. On July first dividend and interest payments aggregating nearly $180,000,000 will have to be provided for. In July also the treasury has some important problems to meet. Owing to the growing national deficit it is possible that the government's deposits in banks may be withdrawn to the extent of about $50,000,000. The government will also have to provide for $64,000,000 of Spanish war bonds which will shortly mature, as well as for $15,000,000 3 per cent certificates. These operations in connection with the shortly expected new Panama issue leave the operations of

is the chief basis for the uncompromising optimism of the west, which contrasts so pleasantly with the depression still hanging over the east.

One satisfactory feature of the week was the reduction in the prices of iron and steel. This step should have been taken long ago; the rigid refusal to recognize changed business conditions being not only very poor judgment, but decidedly bad business policy. The only criticism to be now made is that the cut was not sufficiently deep. Buyers fully appreciate this fact, and will simply hold off until convinced that bottom has been reached. Values are still so high and unsettled as to restrain new business, and a stimulant is absolutely needed in the shape of bottom prices. Already some of the independents are making deep cuts under the United States steel corporation; creating a feeling of uncertainty which might have been avoided had the steel trust squarely met the situation by promptly coming down to bed-rock figures. The recent "hold up" policy was injurious from all standpoints. It was politically foolish, economically unsound and commercially injurious. Nothing has done so much toward delaying a prompt recovery in business as the defiance of the inelastic law of supply and demand by the various combinations which have endeavored to displace competition by artificial regulation. Natural laws may be held in abeyance for a time, but the penalty for such mistakes invariably operates upon the community with the same certainty as the laws of gravitation.

General business shows an improving tendency. Confidence is gaining steadily; and, while summer may prove a period of quiet, there is well grounded hope that with a good harvest, and with political uncertainties out of the way, the volume of trade will show steady improvement in the coming fall and winter months. As for the stock market, moderate fluctuations may be anticipated. No serious breaks is probable; nor is a sharp advance likely at this time when favorable elements have been so fully discounted. Very shortly buying in anticipation of the July investment demands will be in order. Satisfactory results at the Chicago convention would also help the market; but the possibility of political scares should not be overlooked.

HENRY CLEWS.

MEMORIAL

SERVICES OF ODD FELLOWS AT OAK GROVE.

Annual Services in Honor of Deceased Members Held By the Fraternists.

Memorial services were held at Oak Grove cemetery Sunday afternoon by the three local lodges of Odd Fellows. It was the annual service in memory of the brothers who died in the last year, and was attended by hundreds of persons, many of whom were not members of the lodges. To the strains of the lodge funeral marches, the members who had gathered at the Three Links building, marched to the cemetery, where the program was carried out. An opening ode was given by the lodge, followed by prayer by the chaplain, J. S. Warren, read the memorial proclamation and the band played "Nearer My God to Thee."

The memorial address was delivered by Alben Barkley, after which the graves of the I. O. O. F. lot were decorated by the Rebekahs. C. F. Yates read the names of the deceased brothers, which were:

Daily Thought.
"Men of mettle turn disappointments into helps as the oyster turns into pearl the sand which annoys it."

ROOSEVELT'S CROWNING FEAT.
Americans are beholding in the nomination of Secretary Taft for president, a more wonderful sight than they are generally aware of.
President Roosevelt counted his great majority in 1904 as a remarkable tribute to his popularity, but the accomplishment of his purpose to have Taft nominated to carry out his policies, is a far greater test of his hold on the people.

In the ordinary course of events,
Taft might not have been selected by the party as Roosevelt's successor, because Taft is not a dyed-in-the-wool politician, and the convention left in the hands of the regular party workers, naturally would have turned toward some conspicuous partisan.
But the president has gauged the situation at this time in the country, more accurately than they, as he has done on every occasion since he came into office. Roosevelt understands the American people as few public men of today do, and when the ballots are counted next November, it will be found that his judgment did not err in the selection of Taft, any more than it did in the selection of his great administration policies.

There is only one possibility of Bryan being elected, and that is for the Republican party to abandon the position into which the president had advanced it. If this position is maintained, and of this there is no doubt, Bryan will have no issue with the Republican party. He has substantially endorsed the administration and the things he stands for which Roosevelt does not, are questions which the people will not consider at this period.

Taft will run well, however, principally from psychological reasons.
The country is in a relaxed state now.
We are distinctly wearied with excesses and muck-raking, and the whole nation is ready to turn its attention once more to great constructive operations. This change in mood does not mean a reaction in the sense that the people want to revert to past corrupt conditions. They simply want the same policies carried out without the intense strain, and emotion that characterized the last eight years. Such methods were essential then.

Bryan typifies the mood that is passing. Taft typifies the mood of today, which combines a thoroughgoing hostility to business corruption, with quieter and less theatrical methods of accomplishment. In this is found the secret of Roosevelt's ability to transfer his popularity to another man's shoulders. To look over the whole United States and pick out the one man who nearest approaches the needs of the people will be counted by history as Roosevelt's greatest political achievement.

Some people derive a lot of satisfaction from thinking that they are thinking.

The man who overestimates his own wisdom makes a great mistake.

FLAG DAY IS OBSERVED BY CITY OFFICERS

Flag Day was observed by an unusually large number of persons today, considering that it is a new ceremony. All the fire department stations had flags flying, as did the other city departments and buildings. Sergeant C. A. Blake probably was the person most interested in the day, and he displayed several flags from the upper windows of the New Richmond house, where the United States recruiting station is located.

Flag day was designed to create a greater reverence for the United States flag. To this end a stringent law was passed which forbids the use of the national flag for advertising or in any other than a respectful way. It is not lawful to injure a flag wantonly whether it is public or private property. At every army post, fort and other places where the flag is flying, solemn ceremonies will be observed today and for the soldier boys it will be further interesting because chicken and other delicacies will be served them for dinner. On every holiday special things are added to the soldier's menu. Mayor Smith today realized his desire to see flags flying from all municipal buildings.

EFFORT TO DEFEAT

omitted. Gompers and other labor leaders are working equally hard for the plank and also to have a labor plank included.

Delegates Storm Chicago.
Chicago, June 13.—The tramp of convention hosts is now under way and Chicago is beginning to throb with the confusion and excitement of arriving throngs, some with banners and bands and gayly uniformed marchers, others made up of state delegations with their conspicuous leaders and their cohorts of stronglunged followers and shouters, others with the friends and admirers of the various presidential candidates, and still others of the curious onlookers drawn from every section of the country, including many of the representatives of foreign governments, who have come to witness this national spectacle.

All day special and regular trains have emptied thousands of strangers into this political Mecca. The effect of this influx is seen in the surging street crowds, the growing animation of the choked and smoky hotel lobbies, the strains of music and the swell of oratory from some of the headquarters of candidates, and the bounteous hospitality which these headquarters of candidates are beginning to dispense. And yet, this foregathering of the Chicago convention of 1908 has already established a record for unusual calm and tranquility, for, measured by the din and tumult, the scenes of delicious excitement and the spirit of die-in-the-latch which has marked some historic gatherings of the past, this invasion of the delegates and spectators is a most staid and unemotional body. But it is none the less an army, with new columns to the front hourly, and with the prospect of plenty of hurrah and fireworks ahead to animate the leaders and stir the blood of the onlookers. A drizzling rain last night, after a hot, muggy day, tended to restrain the outbursts of enthusiasm, but there is a promise of good convention weather ahead.

Some Notable Arrivals.
The centers of interest today and yesterday have been the arriving delegations, with many of the leaders of conspicuous national prominence, and the headquarters of the various presidential candidates. Among the notable convention figures to arrive were Don Cameron, former United States senator from Pennsylvania, who has not attended a national convention since the convention of 1880; Henry Taft, brother of the secretary of war; Senator Depew, who eight years ago electrified the Philadelphia convention with his speech seconding the nomination of Roosevelt for vice-president; Representatives Sereno Payne, of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, who bears on his ample shoulders a good deal of the burden of future tariff revision; the United States Senator Long, of Kansas, who is reputed to have the Dol-liver vice-presidential boom in cold storage; James S. Sherman and Timothy L. Woodruff, of New York, both receptive vice-presidential possibilities; ex-Governor Yates, of Illinois, with his clean-shaven, actor-like face, and a willingness to consider his return to the gubernatorial chair, and a host of others notable in the political world.

Kentucky Makes Good Showing.
The Cincinnati Blaine club was given a great ovation. Kansas City, Colorado and Kentucky delegations also made a great showing. The town is overflowing with visitors.
The negro question is giving the leaders the greatest concern. Some anti-Taft negroes are preaching rebellion and threaten bloodshed. The negroes ousted by the national committee suggest organizing a separate party and the nominating of Senator Foraker for president.

CHAPTER XII.

The Dreadnought Returns.

The falling of the heavens would have created little more consternation and excitement in London than the sight which met the residents' eyes on the morning following the king's visit to the Hippodrome. The fog which settled unexpectedly on that night of June dissipated itself as stealthily as it had come, and floated out with the dawn, leaving in its stead a clear sky. And then, as if a rare discovery had been made simultaneously by thousands instead of one, a swarm of people, defying the rush of motors, of omnibuses and hansoms, debouched on the Thames embankment by the stately pile of buildings where parliament convenes, filled the roadsteads, jammed each other against the river wall, and scorned the constables, who vainly strove to maintain order and uninterrupted traffic.

There, resting serenely on the bosom of the river where in times before Roman galleys had floated, was the pride of the British navy, the Dreadnought. Neither an officer of the watch, a sailor, nor a marine bestrode her decks. Inert and untenanted, silent and lifeless, she lay close by the great gray buildings like the last survivor of a defeated army who had crept home to bring a report of disaster and was resting in the shadow of the last refuge. Her unmasked guns stared wide-eyed and mournful; from her crippled funnels came no wisp of curling smoke; from her channels stretched no anchor chains; and she paid no heed to the vagaries of the sluggish current; her prow which had defiantly parted so many seas was nosed into the mud in helplessness; but as an only solace there floated from her stern the unsullied banner of the United Kingdom, and whipped as she was she had come back to her people with colors still flying.

The miracle of her position was greater than the marvel of her return; for above and below that spot on the river were bridges impassable for a boat of half her size, beneath which tugs and other craft were wont to lower their jointed stacks. In all the world there was no known strength or mechanical contrivance that could transport over shallows and bridges 22,000 tons of steel, and then leave it in this prohibited place. Her very appearance bore mute testimony of singular strife. True, she was intact to a point flush with the great steel domes which held her menacing and frowning guns; but her fighting masts, her top rig, and the upper bands of her funnel were riven off as if by one devastating line shot taken full abeam or square astern. The wreckage of this hamper had been removed, so that no debris littered her deserted decks.

For many days of gloom it had been accepted as a fact that nothing but annihilation could account for the disappearance of the squadron which had doggedly sailed away into the mysterious west to vanquish a terrible and unknown enemy or meet a glorious death. Little hope had been sustained as the days of silence went by that any explanation of that defeat might be forthcoming, or that any vessel might return; and now before London's gathered populace was a grim celle which only added to conjecture.
From no source could the secret of this mysterious visitation be learned; and so the crowd watched and waited.

A boat, whose flag distinguished her as being of the river patrol, obeyed a hall from the shore, pulled noisily up the stream against the outgoing tide, and circled round the leviathan as though suspecting danger from within.
Her chief officer, after due caution, and receiving no response, cautiously directed her along side, and boarded the Dreadnought over the starboard quarter. The ever increasing crowd along the embankment drew in its breath in expectancy, waiting for a revelation. It heard him shout "Below, there!" and leaned forward, listening for whatever response might be given; but nothing was heard save the steady lap of the water and the farthest sounds of early river traffic.

The officer advanced along the deck to the companionway, and leaned corarily into it repeating his hail, and once more there was a wait and no reply. He backed away from the entrance, and hesitated. It was plain that he desired witnesses before invading the precincts of a stricken craft, and in a moment more he stepped to the rail, held a short conversation with those on the docks of his boat and then waited till he was joined by others of that force that guards the Thames. Three men clambered aboard and stood by him until they were joined by two others, who, obeying a low-spoken order, stationed themselves at the head of the companionway. The officer and his assistants advanced slowly, stepped into the darkness and disappeared into the depths of the battle ship, while the suspense along the embankment and on the patrol became more intense. It was several minutes before the investigators reappeared, and then they had gone only a short way into the vessel. They walked to the rail, and the crowd remained waiting. With British taciturnity they declined to answer any of the questions which were shouted to them from the shore.

The little boat swung off, turned her nose out into the stream and steamed happily away at full speed, bent on summoning others of her service; and in less than half an hour returned accompanied by a small flotilla, which spread out and stationed its members close up against the sides of the stranded craft. Another officer of higher authority joined those waiting on the decks of the Dreadnought, and led the way below, ready to learn the worst. He went as into a plague ship manned by the dead expecting to meet nothing but grewsome relics of tragedy, and prepared for shocking sights.

From place to place he advanced almost on tiptoe, and followed by his companions who stared into darker corners or glanced fearfully behind when the echoes of their falling feet clumped hollowly through the steel cavern. Once a weird shriek caused them to spring toward each other with nervous fright, and when the ship's cat came moving up to them, begging in its animal way for companionship, they looked foolishly at one another like boys who had been startled in the midst of ghost tales told by a campfire in the woods.

Cabin after cabin and wardroom after wardroom was opened and searched; but nowhere could be found sign of disturbance or conflict. There was not another living being aboard to greet them, nor did they find more awful testimonials of war.

In the captain's quarters, clean and businesslike, the roll-topped desk was closed, and the books on top of it were in order as for inspection. At its side stood a typewriter with the tin resting lightly upon it, and a stenographer's case notebook beside neatly checked and showing that the last letter or order had been completed. On the wardroom table lay a magazine open and turned page downward as though the reader had desired to keep his place and had stepped away from it on a sudden call. In the galleys of this great floating home pots, pans and kettles were placed in orderly array in their racks—no thrifty housewife could have left her kitchen in better state. In the chartroom the traced highways of the ocean's bed were drawn up in their closed cases, and the hoists were not loaded or littered with ammunition as would have been the case had the battle ship been in action when overcome by the enemy.
There was nothing above or below offering a key to the enigma.

A story so filled with pathos as this one comes to light but seldom.
This one deals with a man of large family who had neglected to save in his youth. Now his family, being large, required a good sized house, and this kept his "nose on the grindstone" until he read of the easy way Mr. Mathews, of the Standard Trust Co., has provided for the homeless to secure a home on small monthly payments. This man had met a friend in his time that sold him a home for $1,500 at $15.00 per month and 6 per cent straight interest. He found he had to pay $180.00 principle and $90.00 interest $22.50 on both per month. Of course he lost out in the end, as he could not keep it up, and became a Doubting Tom. Mr. Mathews showed him the standing of his company and some of the heart to heart letters started and now has three nice pieces of property. If you doubt this, write Mr. H. Washman, Petersburg, Va., or better still, write the clerk of Dinwiddie company, Virginia, and see if there is not deeds and mortgage records there between Mr. Wash-

The pitching of Burden, for Powderly, was the feature of the game, as he struck out 15 men and let Paducah off without a hit. Runion, for the Indians, struck out six men and allowed six hits. A large and enthusiastic crowd saw the game and the weather was ideal. The Indians will not be content with this game and expect to cross bats with Powderly in the near future. DAMAGED SHIP GUARDED.
Secret of Torpedo Test on Florida
Being Rigidly Withheld.

Norfolk, Va., June 15.—With a hole in her starboard side ten feet high and twenty feet long, made by a white-head torpedo, the monitor Florida is now in one of the stormy docks at the Norfolk navy yard covered with canvas to prevent her actual condition from being learned by outsiders who might attempt to send photographs to foreign lands. Naval authorities declare the damage to the monitor is serious, but not vital. According to their views, it is claimed that had the Florida been engaged in battle with a foreign foe and been struck such a blow as that delivered her in Hampton Roads she would have still been able to continue the fight.

“Unless other compartments on the same side were punctured with torpedoes,” one officer declared, “the Florida or any other warship in the American navy equipped with watertight bulkheads such as were tested on board the Florida, would still be in condition to give battle.”

While the actual damage done the monitor will probably never be given out for publication, it is said in official circles that it is not possible to tell just what it will cost in dollars and cents to repair the Florida.

The Florida is guarded by a patrol of marines to prevent any one from examining the hole in her side.

WILL FIGHT PROHIBITION.

Nashville Trades and Labor Council Against State-Wide Prohibition.

Nashville, Tenn., June 15.—After a long discussion and many impassioned speeches, the Trades and Labor Council of Nashville today went on record against state-wide prohibition by adopting this significant resolution:

“Be it resolved, That this Central Trades and Labor Council goes on record as being opposed to any legislation that deprives union men of employment.”

The Brewers' union had threatened to withdraw from the federated body unless some action was taken, and while the Carmack men in the union endeavored to block the resolution, it was finally adopted. The resolution as originally drawn would have involved the union in the gubernatorial race, and the preamble was, therefore, eliminated, but the union went as far as it could under its by-laws.

Mr. J. R. Staggs went to Eddyville today on business.

BLIND TOM

FAMOUS NEGRO MUSICAL GEN-IUS DEAD.

Sightless Musician Victim of Apoplexy at Home in New York Saturday.

New York, June 15.—“Blind Tom,” whose real name was Thomas Wiggins, and who for nearly twenty years delighted countless thousands with his performances on the piano, is dead. Year after year reports were made that the old, sightless man who was born a slave had passed away. The reports proved untrue. But now the body of “Blind Tom,” the wizard of the musical world, who astounded the masters, lies in the funeral chapel of the Frank E. Campbell company on West Twenty-third street. It will be interred tomorrow.

“Blind Tom” died last Saturday, but not until today was the news made public, and then only through the issuing of a death certificate and the filing of the same. Apoplexy was the cause of death. He expired in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bethune-Lerche, No. 60 Twelfth street, Hoboken, where he had lived for years. Mrs. Lerche's former husband, now dead, was Gen. Bethune, who was a patron of old Tom. Mrs. Lerche took care of the gray-haired, venerable musician tenderly, pitying his plight and admiring the gift and genius he displayed.

Tom was born in 1849. He was the son of Charity and Mignon Wiggins, slaves on a plantation in Georgia.

BURNETT PHELPS

John G. Lovett said that the prosecution would be able to prove that a conspiracy had been entered into, and an oath had been taken on behalf of the state to reveal the secrets, to do as ordered, and commit perjury before a court if so ordered. Mr. Lovett said that each member was assessed ten cents with which to buy calico to make masks for the raid.

On the afternoon of March 8, the night of the raid, Mr. Lovett said witnesses had seen Dr. John Champion, of Lyon county, Burnett Phelps and Sam Colly in close consultation near a deserted house, and when discovered went inside. Later in the night they were seen talking together in a barber shop. Continuing his statement he said that the three men were seen together on the road near Birmingham with guns, and wires were discovered next morning near where the men were seen. Concluding his statement Mr. Lovett said that the raiders were divided into three squads, and Dr. Champion, Phelps and Colly were the captains. About 4 o'clock in the morning after the raid, a witness saw three men returning from the direction of Birmingham, and he heard one say which he recognized as Phelps's voice, “In my opinion old map Scruggs is badly hurt or killed.”

Defense Statement.

For the defense, ex-Congressman Charles K. Wheeler said that the defense would have alibis by responsible citizens and men of unimpeachable character. Mr. Wheeler said the proof would show that Phelps lived about a mile from Birmingham, and was awakened by the shots. He arose and peeked the fire. A citizen of Birmingham became frightened at the shooting, and fearing violence went to the home of Phelps, where he found him dressed, and he remained there while the main volley of shots was fired. For Dr. Champion, Mr. Wheeler said that the defense would show that he was unable to leave home on the night of the raid. He admitted Phelps was in Birmingham in the afternoon before the raid.

Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett will be assisted in the prosecution by County Attorney W. M. Reeder, while the defense will be represented by Wheeler, Hughes & Berry, of Paducah, and Jack E. Fisher. The cases have attracted much attention, and today about 1,000 people were present. The trials may continue some time as between 150 and 200 witnesses answered to their names. Not a semblance of trouble has been reported. Company H, Third Infantry of Hartford, is in camp near the court house, and soldiers with pistols and rifles were on the grounds.

The Outrage.

The crime for which the men are being tried was committed on the morning of March 10, when a mob of about 25 masked men went to the home of John Scruggs, a negro farmer of Birmingham, and after shooting up the home, wounding Scruggs and a grandson so badly that they died. Otis Bishop was also badly wounded and Reed Baker, Annie Bishop, Unie Bishop and Matt Frizzell, other occupants of the house, were taken out and unmercifully beaten.

After a regular session of the grand jury failed to bring an indictment Judge Reed empaneled a special jury and the indictments were returned.

Those indicted were Burnett Phelps, Wick Terry, Wallace Stringer, Sam Colly, Amos Stringer, Louis Chaudet, Nick Terry, Tom McClain, Fred Holden and Will McAtee.

THE SABBATH AND ITS NECESSITY

Second Sermon on Subject by Rev. Terry.

"Remember the Sabbath Day and Keep It Holy" Text of Discourse.

THE DAY IS INDISPENSABLE.

"The Necessity of the Sabbath and Its Observance" was the subject of Rev. H. B. Terry's sermon at Third Street Methodist church Sunday. The discourse being the second of a series of sermons on Sabbath observance. The text was from Exodus 16:8: "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy. Dr. Terry said:

The Sabbath is necessary for man as an individual because of the need of religious instruction. The religion of the Bible does not consist in "meats and drinks, but in righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit."

It is a religion of light. The glory of God is creation, the glory of man is the soul, and the glory of the soul is salvation, which is the power of God in bringing the soul out of darkness into light.

The Sabbath is indispensable for giving the individual such instruction as is needed to reach the duty and destiny of man as a religious being.

But man not only needs instruction but also persuasion to overcome indifference and aversion to the light of the world.

Men are tempted to neglect their prayers and to forget their personal accountability to God.

Most men live for this world alone and here is the great need of the Sabbath.

We need time and opportunity to persuade men to go "into the highways and the hedges and compel them to come in."

The Sabbath would be needed for the culture and growth of the individual, if the intelligence was sufficient already. The tide of worldliness would be resistless if men were open to the calls of society every day.

The world is brought to a solemn pause at least once per week, under the eye of God. This lifts man up to the power of living for the future and enables him to subordinate sense to faith.

Man is a social being and needs social and public worship as well as instruction and for these he cannot reach his end as isolated, but must have the religious Sabbath, the pulpit, the Sunday school, the Epworth League and the other social and religious meetings revolving around this holy day, which are inseparable.

The church would scarcely survive if these holy institutions were taken away, for the pulpit is the leading one on earth to diffuse religious instruction and secure a form of worship that should bring all men together in equality and brotherhood before God.

The Sabbath is also needed for the family, for both were instituted by the Almighty Father.

Let the family and religious Sabbath be sustained in their integrity and every interest of the individual family life will be secured.

There is no Sabbath where the domestic relations are not held sacred, and where there is no Sabbath, the domestic relations are not held sacred.

The Sabbath is also essential for the maintenance of a free government for no people ever have been raised to the knowledge and virtue of self-government without that circle of agencies of which the Sabbath and the Bible are apart. Knowledge is not sufficient for a free government. There must be principle and a right social condition. Good will and "Love as a Law" must be applied in the relations of life, as it never has been, without the teachings of the Sabbath.

The capacity of man for free government is now on trial in our country, therefore, the point is of special interest to the patriot as well as the Christian.

In the national Sabbath convention Dr. Mark Hopkins said: (1) "That a religious observance of the Sabbath would secure the permanence of free institutions." (2) "That without the Sabbath religiously observed the permanence of free institutions cannot be secured." (3) "That the civil (Sabbath) as based on the religious Sabbath is an institution to which society has a natural right, precisely as it has to property." It is believed beyond a doubt that these propositions can be established.

Therefore the Sabbath must be a divine institution and connected not only with man's individual needs of body, mind and heart, but also with the needs of the animals which serve him. It is worthy of notice that cattle are especially referred to in the fourth commandment. This not only shows the wide relations of the Sabbath, but also the subordination of physical and moral ideas in the whole structure of the present system.

The great question is will men and animals live longer, have better health do more and better work by laboring six days and resting one, than by laboring seven days in the week?

Extensive observations have been made by cautious men upon this

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Hemionus Dione) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a tonic to the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Hemionus we have a tonic which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Hemionus (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women; mental depression and irritability; associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the lower abdomen; menstrual flooding, due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhea or absent monthly periods; or from accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and bowels; habit; drawing sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

"If none or less of the above symptoms are present, no woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, our most prominent recommendation, Unicorn root, or Hemionus, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents."

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the female system, especially in cases of general debility, it is useful." Prof. John A. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. S. H. Barlow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhages, menorrhagia, leucorrhea and consecutive dysmenorrhea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

point, and facts like these are stated: "The experiment was tried on a hundred and twenty-five horses. They were employed for years seven days in a week. But they became unhealthy and finally died so fast that the owner thought it too expensive and put them on a six days arrangement. After this he was not obliged to replenish them one-fourth as often as before. Instead of sinking continually, his horses came up again and lived years longer than they could have done on the other plan."

Numerous cases of this kind are given in the "Sabbath Manual" by Dr. Justin Edwards, superintendent of the Third Avenue R. R., in New York City arranged his teams in three pairs of horses with one extra horse, so that each horse should rest one-seventh of the time.

It is told of two mail contractors in Alaska, who used footmen with snow shoes, that one required his men to travel every day, while the other allowed one-seventh for rest, and deflected his mails more promptly with better results. In view of facts like the above Dr. Edwards said of animals:

"When employed but six days in a week and allowed to rest one, they are more healthy than they can be when employed during the whole seven. They do more work and live longer." Again Dr. Edwards says: "What is true of animals is true of man. From extensive inquiries, from reports made by government commissioners and from the opinion of many scientific physicians, men who labor six days in a week and rest one, can do more work in all kinds of business, in all parts of the world, and do it in a better manner than those who labor seven. That it is now settled by facts that the observance of the Sabbath is required by a natural law and that were man nothing more than an animal it would be for his interest to observe the Sabbath."

Physical labor is especially referred to above, but as the strength and activity of vigorous and persistent mental labor depends upon the condition of the body, it is evident that more and better mental labor can be done by those who strictly keep the Sabbath. A man of great mental power, Sir Matthew Hale, first called the attention to this subject in these words: "If I had at any time borrowed from this day any time for my secular employment, I found that it did further me less than if I had let it alone, and therefore, when some years' experience upon a most attentive and vigilant observation, had given me this instruction, I grew peremptorily resolved never in this kind to make a breach upon the Lord's day, which I have now strictly observed for more than thirty years." The testimony is convincing and ample on this point.

The teachings of the Bible are necessary to enable us to arrive at these conclusions though these views rest upon personal experience and merit of their own and justify the words of our Lord: "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath; therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath."

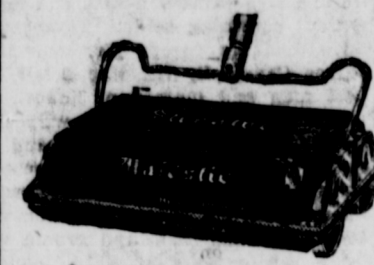

Thus we see that the Sabbath is an integral and essential institution for the training and development of man in his three-fold nature: As a physical, intellectual or spiritual being, and in his domestic, his social or his civil relations in this life.

Free government is under obligation to its subjects to secure to the individual on the same ground of his property, a right to the civil Sabbath. The ends of the civil Sabbath are from the necessity of those things to which man has a right to secure the various purposes indicated by the active principles of his constitution. The highest object of man is a religiously social end and he has a right to demand of society whatever legislation may be needed to furnish to every man the most favorable conditions for developing this sacred end for which he was created.

The civil government, which does not afford this needs modification, and if it would render such attainment impossible to man, it needs reconstruction.

We disclaim any purpose to make men moral or religious by law; legislation, or to interfere with any liberty that would not trench upon rights.

We need the stillness and quietude of the civil Sabbath strictly observed for the best religious impressions and the instruction of our children and families in the Sunday school and the other services of the church.

We have a right to these as needed for the highest attainment of the individual, the family and the church of Christ, as well as society, which has a natural right to anything necessary to secure their best ends.

Therefore, as these great and worthy ends cannot be secured without the Sabbath, mankind has a right to the protection of the civil authorities in favor of the civil and religious Sabbath.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

TOBACCO NEWS

Sever Connection With Virginia Growers.

At the called meeting of the executive committee of the Planters' Protective association, at Guthrie, it was decided that it would be best to sever the relations now existing between the Kentucky and Tennessee branch of the organization with the Virginia branch. For some time this has been discussed, but final action was deferred until now. Even at this, it will be some time before the full details of the dissolution will be arranged.

Many matters, small in themselves, but of much interest to the association as a whole, were brought up and disposed of. On account of this meeting being held so near the regular quarterly meeting set for July, the latter was called off.

From reports given at the meeting it is estimated that the association will handle fully 55,000 hogheads of tobacco of the crop raised last year, of which 47,000 hogheads have already been graded and placed on sale. Of this amount about 17,000 hogheads have been sold.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the final report of Mr. C. C. Reynolds, general inspector during 1906. Mr. Reynolds' report showed that 41,623 inspections were made, the total crop handled last year by the association being 39,369 hogheads. Reclamations to the amount of $3,000 were allowed for that year, the value of the association crop being $6,610,120.50. This was an excellent showing for that year.

Clarksville Market.

Receipts in the open market this week were 154 hogheads; sales 280 hogheads, the market strong and unchanged on all grades.

The tobacco crop seems now in the field with a generally good stand, though there is still some replanting to be done, for which there are plants in abundance.

The salesmen of the association sold here last week about 500 hogheads of all grades at very satisfactory prices and are very cheerful. The salesroom keeps well filled with foreign buyers.

ARRANGE PROGRAM
FOR BIG CONVENTIONTaft Men Sure of Nomination —Abandon Aggressive

But Will Watch Allies and Check
Any Attempt at a Demonstration.

STRONG CALL FOR DOLLIVER

Convention Speakers.
Temporary chairman, Senator J. C. Burrows.
Permanent chairman, Senator H. C. Lodge.

Opening prayer, Bishop P. J. Muldoon.

Nominating Speeches.
Taft, Theodore E. Burton.
Fairbanks, Gov. J. Frank Hanly.
Cannon, Henry S. Boutell.
Hughes, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford.

Knox, Lieut. Gov. R. S. Murphy.
LaFollette, Henry F. Cochems.
Foraker, not chosen.

Chicago, June 15.—In preparation for the opening of the Republican national convention Tuesday noon at the Coliseum, Secretary Taft's friends held several conferences and decided on a program which subsequently was submitted to the candidate in Washington by long distance telephone and endorsed by him.

So far as possible from now on the Taft managers propose to keep their hands off the convention, but, at the same time, if the "allies" endeavor to embarrass the men now admitted in control of the situation, the power of the Taft organization will be used to persuade the opposition of the futility of such a course of action.

A modest reticence made it impossible for the Taft men to say who were at the conference at which the plan of action was outlined. The talking is being done by the defeated contingents and is about the last thing the Taft majority thinks of doing. Frank H. Hitchcock, C. P. Taft, Wade Ellis, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Henry Taft, and a few others in the inner circle, were taken into the program making sessions and agreements covering both the presidency and the platform were reached.

May Check Plans of "Allies."

With regard to the former the program is no program at all. It simply means that so long as the natural drift of things is in the direction of a candidate who is acceptable the Taft organization will keep its hands off, but if one of the "undesirables" becomes a threatening factor for the second place the Taft majority will be used to block it and put an acceptable man in the place.

Secretary Taft and his friends prefer that the convention do its work as it pleases, but do not propose to allow the minority in the body to take advantage of this complaisance. The "allies" are keeping up the fight with this express end in view, desiring to save out of the wreckage of their presidential hopes at least the vice-presidency and the platform. For this reason they are promising themselves that they will go down in all manner of ditches with respect to the presidency.

After the Taft conferences Wade Ellis and Senator A. J. Hopkins, who will be chairman of the resolutions committee, went over to the Woman's temple and there revised the tentative platform which will be laid before the convention committee when it is named on Tuesday.

As the result of the conferences they are reported to have made minor changes in the tariff revision and the anti-injunction planks which, without giving substantial comfort to the minority, will incline the opposition to accept them with fewer demonstrations of unfriendliness.

The one best bet of the entire convention which opens on Tuesday is that whatever is done there will be acceptable to Secretary William Howard Taft and his supporters, and whatever is not acceptable to them will not be done. It is a certainty that the platform will be the one which Mr. Taft wants, and it is a good bet that Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, of Iowa, in spite of his reluctance to take the second place on

UNTOLD INJURY

To Paducah People, as "It Is Elsewhere Throughout the Land, Neglecting a bad back,
Not trying to reach the cause, Brings untold injury to the human system.

Following in the wake of backache are urinary disorders, diabetes, Bright's disease.

Let a Paducah citizen tell of his cure.
T. G. Elder, of 1763 West Monroe street, Paducah, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were used in my family about seven years ago with very satisfactory results. At that time they cured a case of kidney trouble of two years' standing, removing the pains from the back and strengthening the kidneys. I have often recommended them to others who have used them with good results. I purchased them from DuBois Son & Co.'s drug store."

cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

the ticket, will be the nominee for vice-president.

Six Candidates for Presidency.
The attitude the "allies" have taken with regard to the presidential nomination makes it certain that all the candidates who made the primary fight will be placed in nomination.
They include:

William Howard Taft of Ohio.
Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana.

Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois.
Charles E. Hughes, of New York.
Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania.

Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio.
Mr. Taft being the certainty, the others occupy the interesting position of being the "last ditchers."

Dolliver Leads for Second Place.
Although Senator Dolliver retains the lead in the vice-presidential race, there is sufficient uncertainty in this contest to make it interesting. The following men are likely to be placed in nomination:

Jonathan P. Dolliver, of Iowa.
George B. Cortelyou, of New York
Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana.

Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey.
Curtis Guild, of Massachusetts.
James S. Sherman, of New York.
John Hays Hammond, of Massachusetts.

In the event of a definite decision on the part of the Taft organization to throw its support to one candidate there may be a diminution in the number of nominations. The Taft people may be brought to consider either Sherman or Cortelyou, of New York, as available, but it is not believed they will accept Fairbanks or any of the others except Dolliver.

An apparent effort on the part of the "allies" to line up the convention for Fairbanks, it is believed, will bring the Taft organization out with the insistence that Dolliver be named and that will settle it, regardless of the latter's personal inclinations.

Two Governors "Dark Horses."

Two extremely dark horses figure slightly in the situation, they being Gov. Charles S. Deneen, of Illinois, and Gov. G. L. Sheldon, of Nebraska.
The tidings which tied them up with the vice-presidential possibilities came indirectly from Washington, and carried such weight as even indirect suggestions with this geographical advantage naturally have.

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS.

The ardent controversy which has been waged in English and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway system to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents, as to what to do with the public and preparatory school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What shall a Boy do with his Vacation" thoroughly covers the ground and solves the problem of the best way for a schoolboy to enjoy his holidays.

OLD FASHIONED HOLD-UP.

Wells-Fargo Treasure Box Stolen
From Stage Coach in Nevada.

Rawhide, Nev., June 15.—The stage coach bound for this city from Schurz was held up by two masked men six miles from here last night.
The driver was forced to jump from his seat, and the passengers held at the point of one man's gun while the other carried away the Wells-Fargo Express company's treasure box. The first man then backed off into the darkness.

It is not known how much of value the treasure box contained. As soon as the stage reached here the alarm was given and men on horseback and in automobiles started in pursuit of the robbers.

YOUTHFUL HERO KILLED.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 15.—Robert Jackson, aged 16, who was squeezed between freight cars on the Reading railway siding, near his home, after he succeeded in throwing two lads from their perilous position on the bumpers, saving their lives, died early today in the Smartan hospital. Jackson saw the boys playing on the freight cars while a switch engine was approaching. He dashed down the track and reached the cars only an instant before the engine made the coupling.

WARRANTS

FOR CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY IN MARSHALL.

County Attorney Will Prosecute for Failure to Obtain Authority to Enter County.

Benton, Ky., June 15.—Warrants for 1,400 alleged offenses in the-passing on the public roads will be gotten out against the Cumberland Telephone company in Marshall county by County Attorney W. M. Reeder.
The warrants will charge that the telephone company erected its poles on the county roads without authority, and the statutes provide a penalty of $10 for each pole so placed for every day it stands. It is further provided by the law that the cases shall be tried before the court and the fines assessed if the fact is established, with no appeal from the decision. This company has many more poles, Mr. Reeder states, on the roads, than he will issue warrants for, the 1,400 warrants representing one for each of four roads for the last twelve months.

County Attorney Reeder won a personal suit against the telephone company Saturday in Benton, in which he recovered possession of land used by the company for its poles. In the suit he charged that the company unlawfully erected its poles on his land, which fronts on the Benton road.

The arrest of P. H. McDonald Saturday has not in any way disturbed the even tenor of The Sun's Great Popularity Contest. The public recognizes and appreciates the prompt action of Mr. G. Ross Korne in having McDonald arrested before he would have a chance to secure money by any fraudulent means in this city. Every bit of work he did in connection with the contest has been checked over with the result of proving that he was accurate to a cent in the amounts collected on subscriptions for various candidates here. In fact the system used throughout the contest is such that there is no possibility of fraud on the part of any one who has anything to do with it. There is a check on everybody, whether contestant, manager or subscriber.

Statements made by contemporaries to the effect that McDonald was the manager of this contest are false, as everyone of the contestants know and as will be stated in the other papers in their next issue. D. E. Brundage, acting for the firm of G. Ross Korne & Co., contest managers, is the manager of the contest being conducted by The Paducah Evening Sun. P. H. McDonald never had any other connection with the contest than the position of solicitor. Everyone of the candidates with whom and for whom McDonald worked have signified their intention of continuing the same active work that they have been doing in their efforts to share in the $2,230 worth of prizes.

Miss Schwab Wins.
Miss Nellie Schwab turned in the largest amount for subscriptions last week and won the $20 worth of furniture to be selected from the stock of the F. N. Gardner, Jr., company. In speaking of the matter, Miss Schwab said to the contest man this morning, when asked to what she contributed her success, that it was the result of a week of good hard work and the staunch support of her many friends. "It was one of the busiest weeks I have had in a long time, and at the same time one of the most pleasant and I feel more than amply repaid for the work I have done. Of course, I had no idea I would win the prize but I have enjoyed the work all along, becoming more interested each week, and now that my work is beginning to tell I am becoming more enthused and will lend still greater effort to be among the successful at the end of the contest."

$20 in Gold This Week.

Who Are Eligible?

Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.

The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

Districts.

The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:

District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway. District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway. District 3 comprises all of the territory served by The Sun outside the limits of the city of Paducah.

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.

Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.

The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $400.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolf's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $300 piano, on display at W. T. Miller & Bros., 520 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 207-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in their order of rank—a $65 watch on display at Pollock's, 333 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's, corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway.

The right is reserved to alter these rules should necessity demand. Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 3 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from District 2 or District 1, and vice versa.

New subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to another or to someone else living in the same house will not be counted as a new subscription.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes, a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Henneberger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes-Burford's, 112-114 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway.

Three additional prizes for the three districts are added and two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools and one scholarship in the Paducah Central Business College, offering the choice of nine courses. These prizes will be awarded in the three different districts so that candidates receiving the second highest number of votes in their respective districts may choose one of these scholarships instead of the merchandise prize. Should the second highest candidates not desire one of these scholarships, the third highest candidates may choose them. If these two classes do not wish the scholarships they will be awarded to the fourth highest candidates in the three districts.

In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to busy candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

Voting Limit.

Until June 13 no candidate will be allowed to cast more than 10,000 certified votes in any one day.

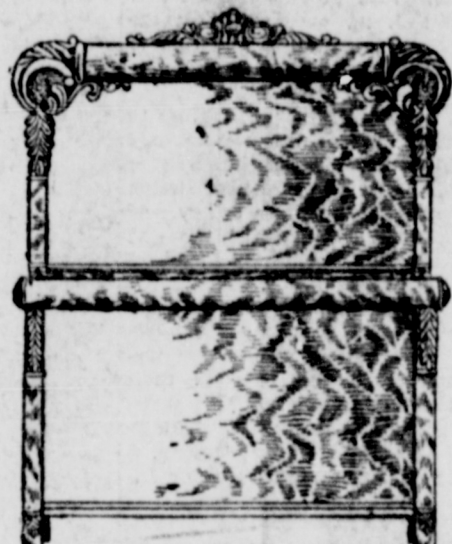

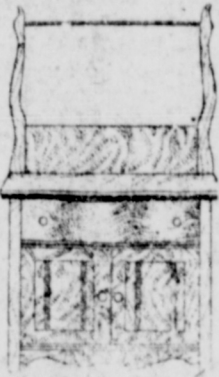

Address all communications to The Sun, Contest Department.
